

ALPHA TEAM

ISSUE
#14

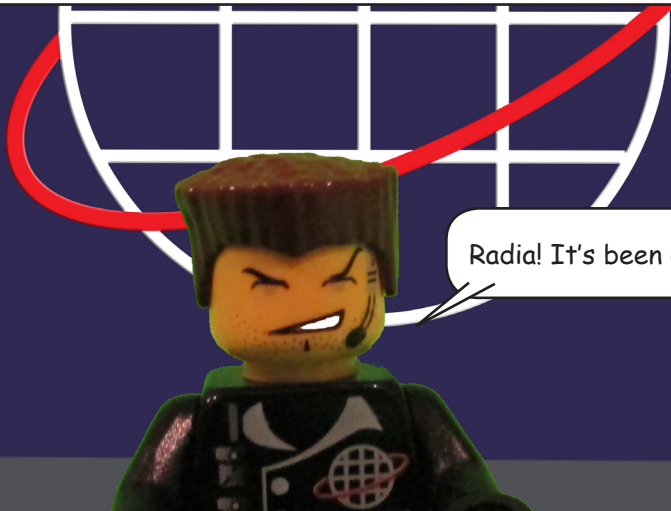

So how's the team doing these days?

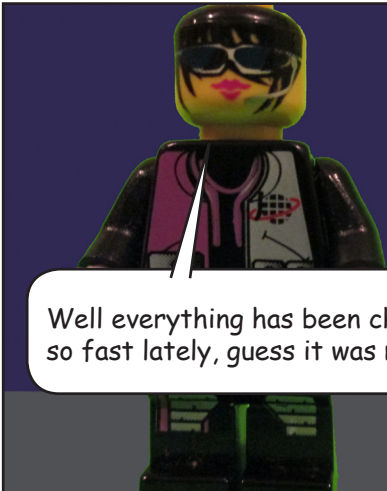

Radial! It's been a few months.

It was time for me come home.

It's good to see you, and with a new look i see.

Well everything has been changing so fast lately, guess it was my turn.

Look Dash, about those things I said last time we spoke-

Forget it Radia. It was an emotional time. What's important now is the next mission.

Do we have a next mission?

Possibly.

Wow

Cam had been working on these for the past few years

I want you and Diamond to head up to the arctic and begin investigating.

Diamond sir?

Yeah, you show him the ropes.

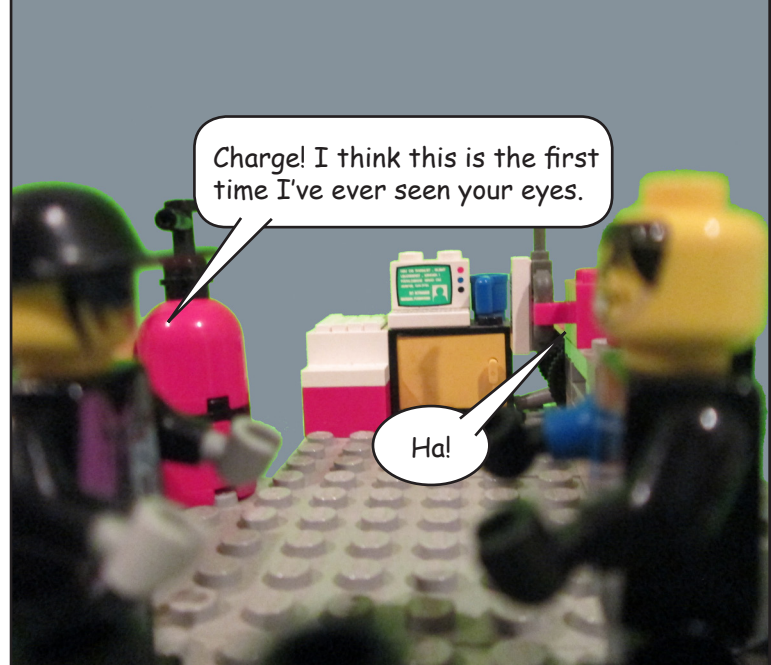

...yes sir.

Radia?

Charge! I think this is the first time I've ever seen your eyes.

Ha!

So, how's everything going here?

We've missed you.

Do you remember before mission deep sea when you got into it with Dash?

I do.

What made you calm down and continue on with the mission?

I guess at the end of the day I trust Dash's judgment and knew I had a job to do.

Flex I hear we're headed to the arctic.

Yes I know.

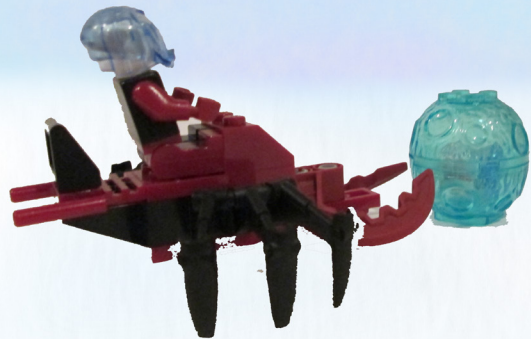

We'll get to the bottom of this quickly.

Just don't slow me down.

I got something ahead.

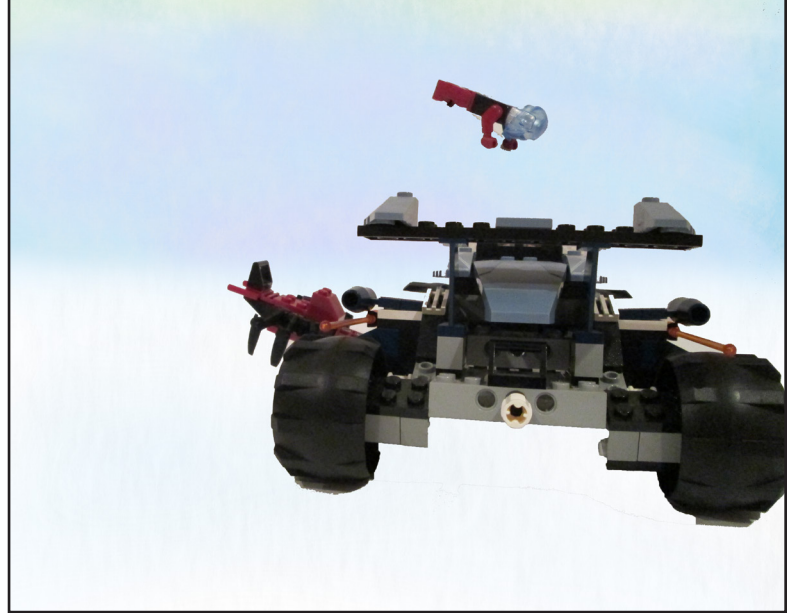

They're here.

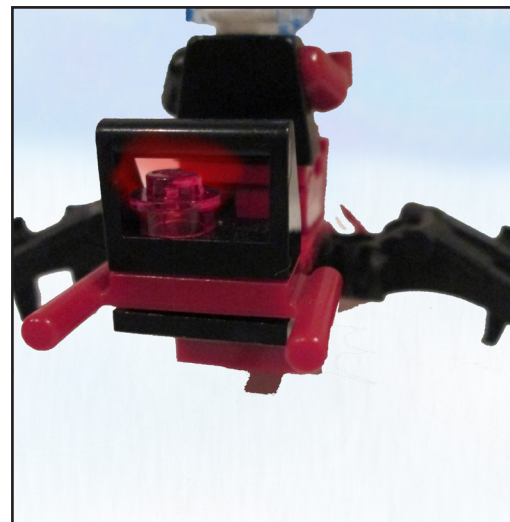

Nice job Diamond, because of you he got away.

Me?

Yes you!

I knew you weren't ready for this.

Flex, this is Charge, how is everything going down there?

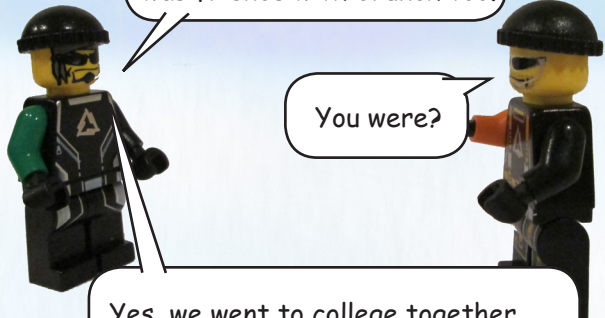

Look Flex, do you have a problem with me?

I have a problem with the drone getting away.

Well so do I, but look we can get it if we work together.

As far as working together goes, you're no Crunch.

I'm not trying to be, look I was friends with Crunch too.

You were?

Yes, we went to college together. He helped me get into the academy.

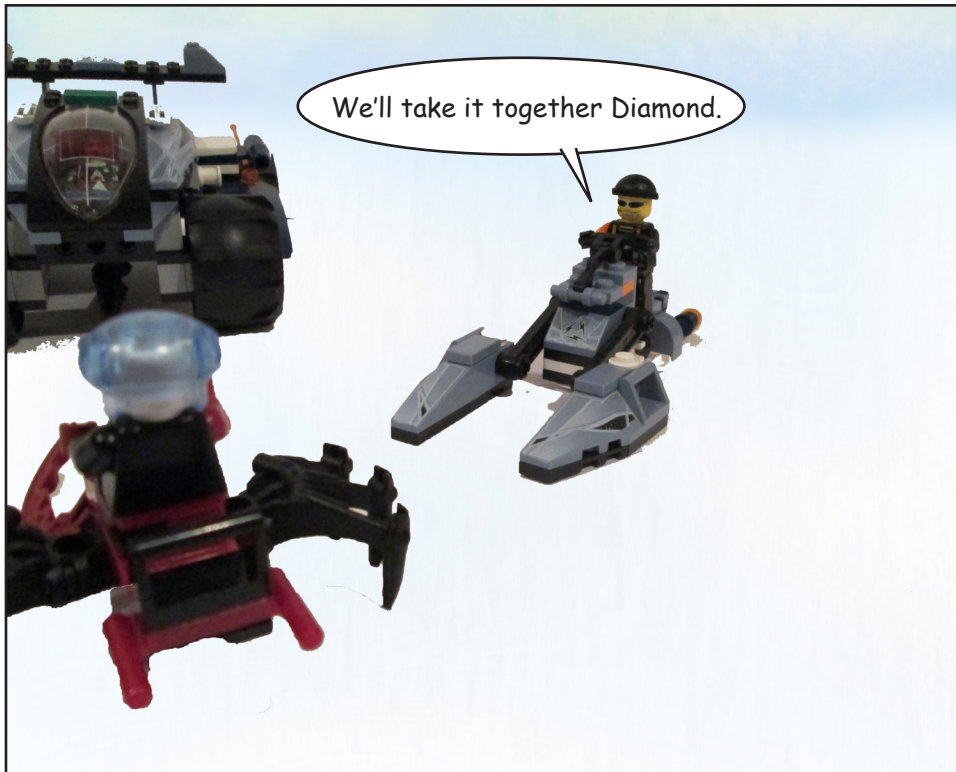

Diamond I... I'm so sorry. It's just losing him hit me hard. And you replacing him so quickly was just a little jarring.

It's okay. But if we're going to take down Ogel, we have to do it together.

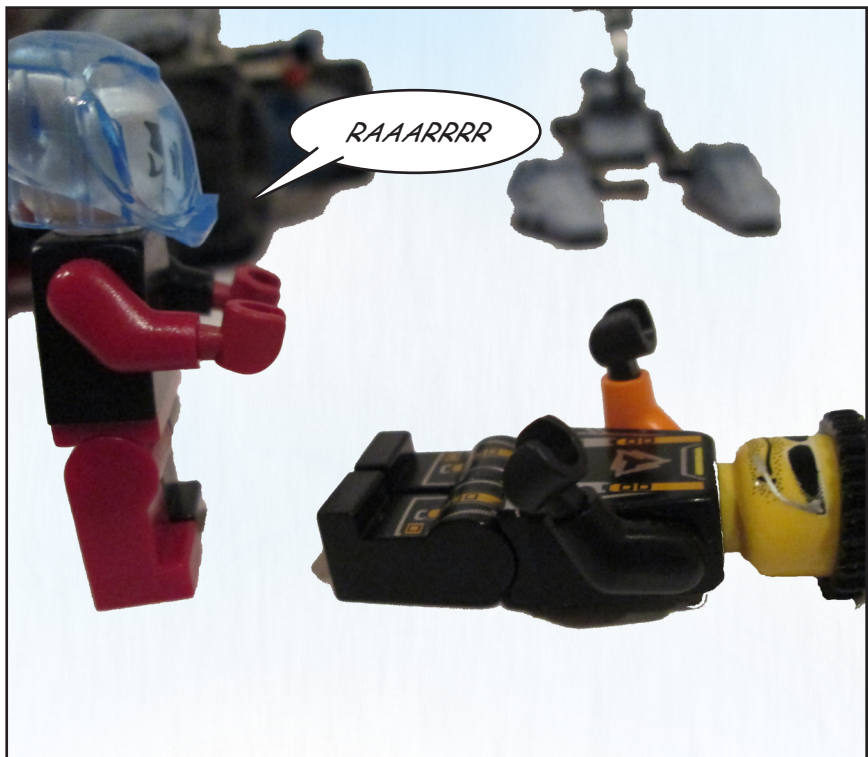

You're right, let's go.
