BEEP

Team listen up, I just got a distress signal from Dash.

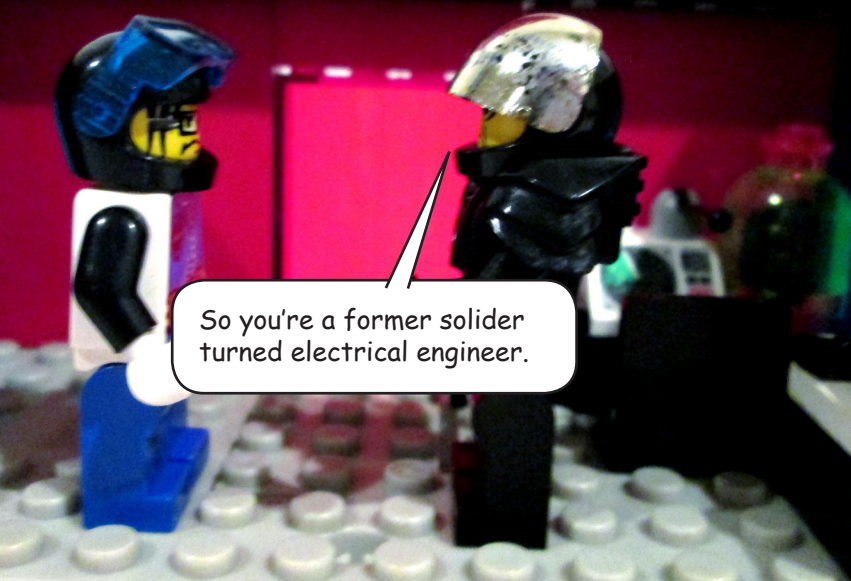

So are we all going to go charging into battle?

We're so late in the game I think we have to.

So you're a former soldier turned electrical engineer.

After some of the stuff I saw, I needed something a little more mundane.

Well Arrow with your help we can end war forever.

Sounds like an awful lot of destruction.

The comet, the ice age, Noah's Arc. Every once in a while to world needs a reset.

Sir, Dash is approaching.

Thank you Drone "C".

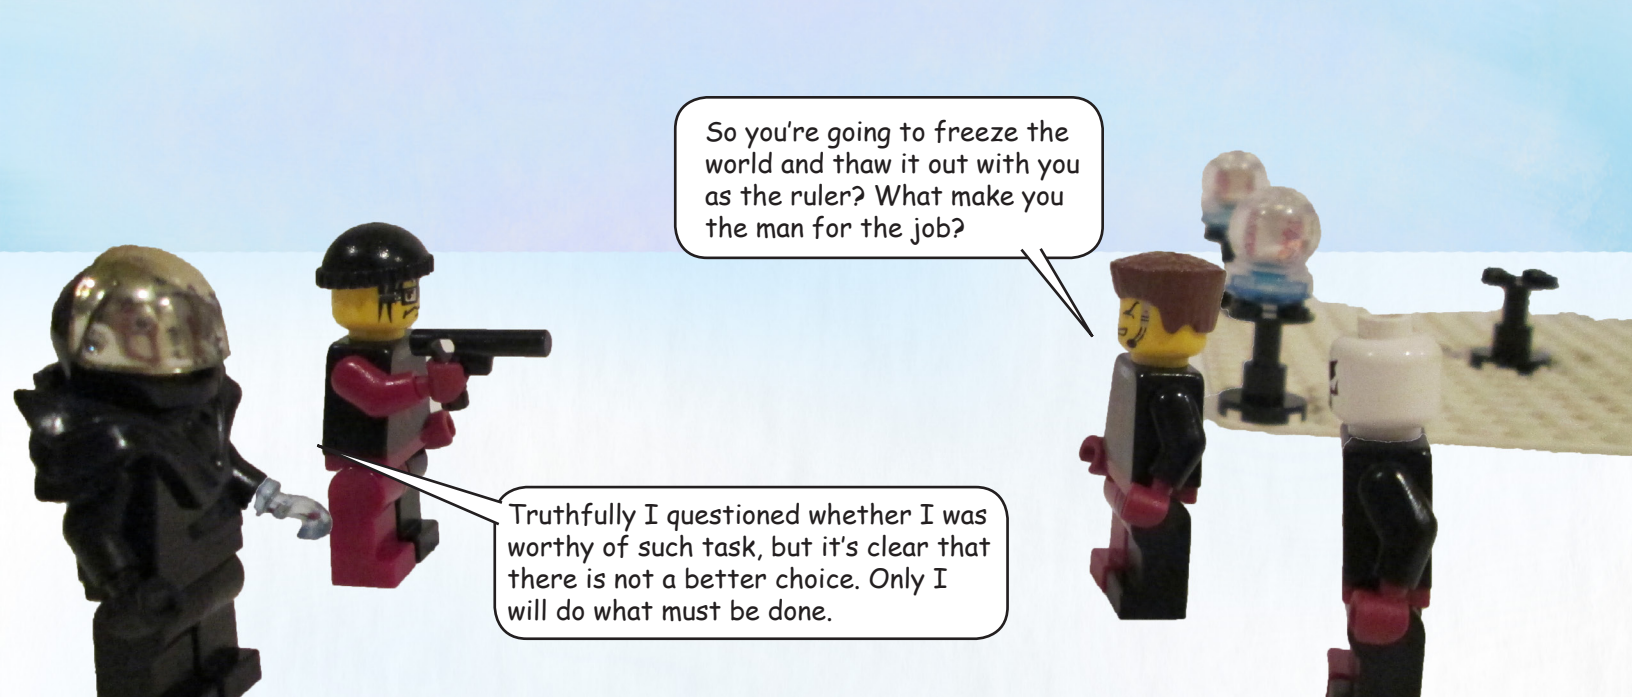

Are you ready for this?

Yes Master.

To the right, there are two more minifigures, one with brown hair and one with a white helmet. In the background, there are some small structures on a tan base.

So you're going to freeze the world and thaw it out with you as the ruler? What make you the man for the job?

Truthfully I questioned whether I was worthy of such task, but it's clear that there is not a better choice. Only I will do what must be done.

Imagine a world united. No war, no classes. I can do that. If I had done it earlier Agent Wolf might still be alive.

KEEP HIS NAME OUT OF YOUR MOUTH! HE WOULD BE ASHAMED OF WHAT YOU'VE BECOME.

A world without choice? Without free will? Just everyone under your mind control like your Drone's and Arrow?

Ha, you think I'm under Ogel's control? There's only one person who makes my decisions, and that is me.
